If you're a history buff you could spend days at the Smithsonians alone, let alone the National Archive, or the National Geographic Museum. Spend some time soaking up American history and culture.

Ireland is a land with ancient myths and legends to uncover and locals who will be more than happy to reveal the hidden gems of the land. With lunar landscapes, labyrinthine caves and clear waterways, Ireland's diverse landscapes will take your breath away. The coastal beauty is the stuff of legends, with the island's history dating back as far as 6000 BC. A literary lot with a real passion for music, dance and, of course, conversation, if there's more than two people in a room, then there's more than enough to have a good time.

Here is a list of the most common activities to do in Ireland as well as some hot spots that you could see!

RENDEZVO

Though the name sounds intimidating, Death Valley is a spectacular national park that spans two states, California and Nevada. A ruggedly, beautiful terrain, the park has lot's to see and lot's to offer. Because it is so large there are many different points of interest to visit. Get a tour of Scotty's Castle, a vacation mansion built during the Roaring '20s. There are so many canyons to see from Artist's Drive, to Natural Bridge, to Golden Canyon. Washington DC is a historic and political city. There are so many places to visit from buildings, to monuments, to museums, to landmarks. The metro system makes getting around easy, but the confusing grid quadrants make navigating tricky. If you love politics, visit the Capitol building and the White House. If you're a history buff you could spend days at the Smithsonians alone, let alone the National Archive, or the National Geographic Museum. Spend some time soaking up American history and culture.
